Where: The Living Desert Zoo and Gardens,
Palm Desert/Indian Wells, California
Registration and hotel information coming soon!

Cheyenne Mountain Zoo's International Center for the Care and Conservation of Giraffe is partnering with The Living Desert Zoo and Gardens to bring you an exciting, informative giraffe conference that is focused on improving welfare for our long-necked friends, both in-situ and ex-situ. We will be putting out a call for abstracts this summer, and are looking forward to the giraffe community working together to present on progressive topics. This will be an exciting time to network and align with people from a variety of backgrounds, including field partners, AZA facilities, ZAA facilities and private owners. We're reaching toward new heights, so mark your calendars — we hope to see you there!
